In Michigan, where state officials said record-high COVID-19 cases and hospitalizations could peak in late January or early February before beginning to drop, health leaders remained reluctant to reinstate restrictions or masking mandates. Get once-in-a-lifetime looks at once-in-a-lifetime prices. The Cheyenne school district also reduced COVID-19 isolation requirements, voting to require that only people with symptoms and positive tests — not just those exposed — need to stay home for five days and mask for five days thereafter. The University of Missouri's governing board on Tuesday rejected the university system president's request to temporarily require masks on the Columbia campus, as well as a mandate specific to classrooms and labs. A school board meeting was canceled Monday in Wichita, Kansas, after three new members refused to wear masks for a swearing-in ceremony. By MEG KINNARD - Associated Press Officials across the U.S. are again weighing how and whether to impose mask mandates as COVID-19 infections soar and the American public grows ever wearier of pandemic-related restrictions. Much of the debate centers around the nation's schools, some of which have closed due to infection-related staffing issues. Louisiana's statewide coronavirus daily hospitalization numbers have increased sevenfold in three weeks — a spike that has strained hospitals, where emergency room waits are sometimes as long as 12 hours, according to the city's health director, Dr. Jennifer Avegno. Health officials in Omaha, Nebraska, announced a temporary mask mandate on Tuesday, but the state has threatened to sue if the rule is imposed as planned. Jenny Wilson, Salt Lake County's Democratic mayor, said the governor did not have the authority to make exceptions to the policy, which requires N95 and KN95 or similar masks for a month in indoor spaces, including schools. Associated Press Writer Zeke Miller in Washington contributed to this report. Meg Kinnard can be reached at 2022 The Associated Press. All rights reserved. This was not an easy decision at all, and I know that it's going to create some waves," Douglas County Health Director Lindsay Huse said. Stay up to date on life and culture in St. Louis. Thanks for visiting In The Know. Play up the vintage charm of your dresses with ladylike gloves and handbags or elegant jackets and wraps. The school said on its website that it no longer considers cloth masks to be adequate, although a cloth mask can be worn over a medical-grade mask to improve fit and increase protection. A new indoor mask mandate takes effect Wednesday in New Orleans ahead of the Mardi Gras season. Edgy, contemporary looks like draped body jewelry, statement necklaces, and chandelier earrings sit side-by-side with timeless pieces like enameled hair combs and beaded clutches. Meanwhile in the Topeka area, elected officials rejected a plea to mandate masks, urging people to be cautious but saying they were not ready for a requirement. Some jurisdictions are making the move on their own toward more stalwart masking policies, including requiring higher-grade mask materials. Last week, the University of Arizona announced it would require a medical-grade mask in indoor spaces where social distancing is not possible. We have research, evidence, out there showing that masks decrease transmission. "Other places hesitated to bring back requirements that ended months ago. Explore our clearance accessories to discover all the finishing touches you need at a deep discount. During a briefing Wednesday, White House COVID-19 Response Coordinator Jeff Zients said officials were "strongly considering options to make more high-quality masks available to all Americans," noting the government has a stockpile of more than 750 million N95 masks. The best mask "is the one that you will wear and the one you can keep on all day long, that you can tolerate in public indoor settings," said Dr. Rochelle Walensky, director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. A parent group has called for school mask requirements, which are in place in a majority of individual districts but not at the statewide level. In Utah, as lawmakers prepared to begin meeting for the year, GOP Gov. Spencer Cox exempted the Capitol and other state facilities from a municipal mask mandate. This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten or redistributed without permission. In a variety of places, mask mandates are being lifted or voted down. The changes come as the federal government assesses the supply of medical-grade respirator face coverings, such as N95 or KN95 masks.
