The feature to merge output files as a single animated GIF is also there.Use this link to get this tool. You can also preview the input video on your interface before converting it. Finally, use the Extract GIF button to get the output and save it to a folder of your choice.5] Free GIF MakerFree GIF Maker (by DVDVideoSoft) is also a very good option here. But, when you have to make an animated GIF from a video file, then you need to look for some other tools. At the end, use the Create button. When adding the video, you can use the left sidebar and the top menu to set the options related to the output. The animated output GIF will not contain any kind of watermark on it, which is good.Video to GIF software maker for Windows 10This post includes video to GIF converter software. It will process the video and generate the GIF output.3] VLC Media PlayerThis may surprise you, but yes, the popular VLC Media Player can also convert a video into an animated GIF. You can also set an initial and final range which is useful for extracting only part of the video as an animated GIF.Click here to open your main page and get this tool. The function to convert video to GIF is also present. After installation, open your user interface and add a video using the Program menu or the Open video icon. icon.
