Production should have started in November 2014[6]. The film was set aside after Aagadu's exit and was shot at the end of October 2014[7]. After returning from a vacation in Kerala, Charan made his mention at the beginning of December 2014 and Vaitla was committed to giving final touches to the script which was said to be a fast-acting comedy[8]. Charan informed the media that production of the film would begin in February 2015[9]. My Name is Raju, a phrase taken from the popular song of Jagadeka Veerudu Atiloka Sundari (1990) with Chiranjeevi and Sridevi, was considered as the title of The producers announced that the film would be a family drama and would be funded by Danayya with its new banner DVV Entertainment. [12] The film Officially opened in March 5th at Danayya's office in Hyderabad. [13] It is said that the film is inspired by the basic plot of the film Telugu Vijetha (1985). [14] The producers thought to call the film Bruce

Lee in mid-May 2015, considering that the character of the protagonist is a stuntman who acts as a body impersonator for the actors, [15] which was initially considered one of the leading female roles, but Rakul Preet Singh (right) ended up being hired for the same role. After the release of 1: Nenokkadina (2014) and before the release of Lingaa (2014), his female guide Kriti Sanon and Sonakshi Sinha were supposed to sign this film as the female guide. [17][18][19] Shruti Haasan was approached at the end of July 2014 to play the female guide. [17][18][19] Shruti Haasan was approached at the end of July 2014 to play the female guide. [17][18][19] Shruti Haasan was approached at the end of July 2014 to play the female guide. previous collaboration with Charan in Yevadu (2014). Both DVV Danayya and Ram Charan claimed that Vaitla had assigned Prakash Raj to a crucial role with which Vaitla had differences in the past. [22] A source of the unit is cinematic told the Indonesian news service of January 1st 2015 that Samantha Ruth Prabhu was completed as one of the female leads and that the second female lead was still to be decided. [23] It has been reported that Vatila refrained from punishing Brahmanandam in this film by making her fourth film not with Brahmanandam in the film, adding that the character written for him would be one of the highlights of the film. Apparently, Vaitla wanted to shoot the Brahmanandam scenes with N. Santhanam for the version double similar to the act of S. S. Rajamoli for the casting of Eenga (2012) as Chiranjeevi suggested to replace Brahmanandam with Santhanam. [26] Samantha has been replaced by Rakul Preet Preet at the same time. While the lack of dates to adapt was cited as a reason, [27] budgetary reasons were mentioned as the other reason. [28] Vatla considered Ramya Krishnan, Tulasi and Jeevitha from Telugu cinema and also sought the heroines of Yesteryear in Tamil and the cinema of Tamil and Kannada for the role of Charan's mother who was very crucial for the history of the film. [29] Kriti Kharbanda made a return to the Telugu cinema with this film after the producers narrated to her the sketch of her character and the history of the film. [30] The second female lead had yet to be finalized. [31] Nadhiya and Kashmera Shah were confirmed as part of the cast of the film at the beginning of June 2015. [32] Impressed by his performance in Velaivilla Pattathari (2014), the producers were attached Amitash Pradhaan to play a supporting role that marks His debut in Telugu after the producers were impressed by the performance of him to Yennai Arindhaal. [34] The inclusion in the cast of the film at the beginning of August 2015 before leaving for Bangkok for shooting movie. [36] Days later, Prudhviraj confirmed the inclusion of him in the cast of the film. [37] On August 20, 2015, Vaitla confirmed that the Chiranjeevi would have made a came out in the film. [39] TISCA Chopra was signed to play a supporting role that marks her debut in Telugu cinema. [41] [42] Vaitla said in an interview that she wanted to put Charan's comic skills in the foreground with this film, adding that the film would have a \"good blend of humor and punch dialogue\".\" [43] He was later confirmed to be seen as an action choreographer leafing through a robust look for which he had to lose weight by following a tough fitness regimen for four hours a day at his farm in Bangalore. [44] For training, he left for Bangkok in mid-April 2015, where he trained with the Jaika stunt team Action choreographer Kecha Khamphakdee oversaw his training which consisted mainly of mixed martial arts. [46] Vidéos showing Charan's football training sessions were released by the Jaika Stunt team on April 23, 2015. [47] He also began learning Karate for his role from mid-May 2015. For the role, he showed a tattoo of Bruce Lee on his hand Kriti Kharbanda was hired to play Charan's sister in the film. Danayya said her character would be important in the film. She said in an interview that she would play a brave girl by the door and added that Vatila asked her to be herself and extremely talkative. Vaitla imagined a middle-aged woman running a manufacturing company like Charan's mother in the film. Amitash Pradhan was signed to play a businessman. While Nadhiya plays her mother, Kriti plays her mother, Kriti plays her mother, Kriti plays her love interest. He added that his role would be seen as a body performing in the same guise. Arun Vijay called his character a powerful character and looked elegant. Rao Ramesh has acted as Father in the movie. [36] During the promotions of Kick 2 (2015), Rakul Preet Singh said he would play the role of a "strong woman, very rich and elegant to that". [40] The Vaitla crew was noisy to collaborate with writer Duo Kona Venkat-Gopimohan for this film with which he had differences in the past. [54] KONA VENKAT-GOPIMOHAN was working on the screenplay for the film in the United States in late November 2014. [55] S. Thaman and Sameer Reddy were respectively reported as the film and music director. [56] Kona Venkat confirmed that she would work with Vaitla again for this film after Charan convinced him to put aside their personal differences by adding that she would not track their past works. [25] Anirudh Ravichander A was signed to compose the music of the film that marks his debut in the Telugu cinema and also making this film the third Charan at his home in Hyderabad In early February 2015 and Danayya, Vaitla and others were also present during the meeting. He agreed to be part of the film after enjoying the film's script. [59] Manoj Paramahamsa A was signed as the film's director of photography. [60] The producers announced that Kona Venkat would co-write the film's director of photography. [61] Anirudh was replaced by S. Thaman, who worked with Vaitla for (2011), Baadshah (2013) and Aagadu (2014). [62]. Thaman confirmed the same through his Twitter page later. [63] The shooting of the main photograph began on 1616 2015 in Hyderabad and the media that she allocated fifteen days a month for the next three months for filming this film. [65] Charan joined the film sets on April 27th after returning from Bangkok. [66] That program was abandoned and a new program started from 21st May 2015 to shoot two duets on Charan and Rakul Preet Singh in Spain until 30May 2015. [67] The next program started from June 3rd to Hydeabad, which was announced last until the film was finished. [32] Initially, few action sequences were filmed in the old town area of Hyderabad. [68] On the 15th of June 2015, Charan revealed through his official Facebook page that the recordings of two songs, combat sequences at intervals and some scenes were completed until then. [69] After a month, the producers revealed that the 40% of the film footage is complete. [70] The shooting continued in Bangkok, where crucial scenes of the film scenes of the film footage is complete. [71] The next program started in Hyderabad the next day. [72] The Mega Meter song was shot in Hyderabad at the end of September 2015. [73] Charan participated in the song for 17 hours uninterruptedly and despite being injured in the back during rehearsals, Rakul Preet Singh completed his parts in the song in three days. [74] At that point, the main shots of the film were finished except for two songs and patchwork. Post-production activities were carried out in tandem. [75] Chiranjeevi joined the film sets on the 21st September 2015, [76] and completed filming for his cameo in three days. [112] Sangeetha Devi Dundoo of The Hindu wrote "Ram Charan dances like a dream, as always, and shows a clear improvement as an actor. But what he needs is a project that does not diminish the huge base of fans in Masala's barn. When the entire antagonist track opens with an illogical act, you should probably do a lot." [113] Writing for The Times of India, Karthik Pasupulate gave three out of five and wrote "The movie is a bit melodramatic and unfortunately the gag turns out to be the attenuating. There is also an excess of funny characters. [114] Writing for India Today, Kirubhakar Purushothaman gave 2,5 stars out of five and wrote "There are movies that exactly open in a way that is expected, without any disorder, and yet they do not disappoint you. Bruce Lee The Fighter adapts to that account.[115] A critic of Sify gave three stars out of five saying "Chiranjeevi appearing in the climax in his real life of a movie star, Charan dancing like a dream in songs, and a decent first time are the only salvation grace of this run-of-the-mill movie. "[116] Bangalore Mirror observed that Bruce Lee-The Fighter is a strictly passable fare where Srinu Vaitla does not really manage to have a convincing fun"by giving him a 2,5 out of 5.[117] Behindwoods gave 2,75 out of 5 affirming"Bruce Lee-The fighter would have been much more original and different, If the director had not adhered to the old model of commercial cinema and capitalized more on the action part, but because of the situational comedy, climax not exaggerated, Srinu delivers another winner who is sure to entertain. "[118] 123Telugu gave 3,25 out of five stars stating"Bruce Lee is a discreet family entertainer." more than 12.66 S.S.
