Getting the best players on FMH 13 seems rather difficult because © If you haven't unlocked the unbreakable sugar daddy, it's just impossible, right? Wrong. In fact, it is easier to buy Messi or Ronaldo for Yeovil with this trick that s to show you. I swear on this tip and you literally helped me buy all the players I need. Watch every step of the way. One mistake could compromise this trick and fail Step 1: Making sure to transfer a list to players you feel is no longer desirable in your club. It is better to sell a player that you know can be nothing more than a first team player. If that player gains interest, you should start seeing offers from different clubs. Phase 2: Once you have received an offer from a club for the listed transfer player, you should choose one and sell your player. It doesn't matter which club, unless you have a personal preference. Once you have chosen the club you want to sell your listed transfer player to, press 'Respond'. Phase 3: Once you are on the response page, change the player's offer to 150m for the maximum amount of money or whatever you want and then click the home button at the top. Do not click Confirmation, click HOME! This will do or break the barrier. Step 4: Go back to the news page and go to the club offer. Just click to confirm and you're done. The next thing you can do is check the finances of your club and see how rich it is! We are always looking for creators of quality content, capable of producing insignificant items. Being published here means more exposure and recognition for you. You got what you need? How & SV Sign up Like our Facebook page & GR Sign up to our YouTube channel! Stamey, I just wanted to let you know that we have an FBI-style chat room for our members. login or subscribe to start at FM SCOUT is the fan site of the Football Manager. Online from 2004. PSP, 30 November 2012 iOS, 13 December 2012 Unlike version 2012, there are now two new alloys - those of Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland to continue the managerial choice. The game is also equipped with a variety of new and considerable features. Now you can appoint your captain, you can recall and move players to the reserve team, and finally a list of "hot" / "red" players. Now you have a comparison with a single player in which all the information requested are presented on a screen. Player profile screens now have real player faces like the PC version (which already did it for some years). This is, however, limited to authorized players (the FIFPRO license). Unfortunately, the club emblems are not present for all teams. There is now a focus on greater media interactivity. The press now directly asks you about the future of a player, the speculation transfer of questions and Gameplay-wise the game did not change all this from the version last year. Year are just small bug fixes, speed increases and general smoothness. Visually, the game has not really moved on, apart from small changes. As a means to make the game more user-friendly, you can now purchase unlockables and challenges in a store. Although unfortunately this year's version still includes "cheat money". The price of Football Manager 2013 Handheld is £6.99.
